FROM THE DRESSING ROOM

I want to give a warm welcome to the manager, staff, players and directors of Arlesey Town.

It has technically been three weeks since our last home game at McMullen Park. (Discounting the relocated Crawley Green fixture). The team performed superbly on the road in every game, particularly against MK Irish, where the character shown on the field in what was a knockout game of football was unmatched. Positive performances against Leighton Town and Crawley Green give us good momentum heading into this afternoon's clash with Arlesey Town, who we know from the reverse fixture will prove a tough team to break down this afternoon.

I want to take this opportunity to welcome Harry Hurst to McMullen Park. Harry joins us on a month-long loan from Aldershot Town. We are delighted to be able to bring Harry through the door and hopefully give him some valuable game time throughout November and allow him to develop as a player during his time with us.

This upcoming month is turning out to be the busiest period for the club in a long time. With seven matches scheduled for November, we have two games nearly every week this month, including an exciting FA Vase and FA Cup double header alongside Real Bedford Ladies next weekend. It will certainly be a testing time for all involved at Real Bedford.

At times like this, we are fortunate to have such a strong squad. We have depth in every position and players who are willing to put their all into games week after week, but we will need the support of fans more than ever as we push to get the most out of this block of fixtures. Your noise on the sidelines, away from home and at McMullen Park, can inspire the players to find that extra energy on the field.

Thank you to all those who continue to support the club, wherever and whenever we play.

Rob Sinclair, Manager

MK IRISH MATCH REP

Real Bedford progressed through to the second round of the FA Vase after a stunning performance against MK Irish away from home.

Having already competed against Irish twice this season, with the victories shared between the sides, The Pirates knew that they would need to produce an impressive performance to overcome the home side over the 90 minutes.

Despite starting as a relatively even competition, with both sides creating chances inside the first 20 minutes, a fluke moment allowed Real Bedford to take an early lead. Lewis Burgess' long throw-in from the left-hand side of the pitch soared into the area and towards Tom Ladyman in goal. The keeper punched the ball in an effort to clear the danger but mistimed his effort, and the ball instead ended up nestling in the top corner without any further touches from Bedford players.

Soon after, Real Bedford doubled their lead with a more technical move. Mo Ahmed, Josh Setchell and Ben Stevens all got moments on the ball in the final third off the back of a Pirates corner before Stevens hit a perfect strike past Ladyman to make it 2-0 to the visitors inside the 30-minute mark.

From a similar position to the first goal, another Lewis Burgess throw-in seemed to cause more issues for Irish, as the defender launched another ball into the area. The head of Ollie Swain met the throw, but the centre-back couldn't find the target, and Bedford headed into the break with a healthy 2-goal lead.

Second Half

It was more of the same from the away side in the second half, as Bedford continued to dominate possession and not allow MK Irish to get any chances towards goal. Ten minutes into the half, Lee Watkins linked up well with Ben Stevens on the right flank. The midfielder crossed the ball back into Joey Evans, whose shot was parried away by Ladyman but only as far as Ahmed, who tapped it in at the back post to further Real's advantage.

And it didn't take long for Ahmed to be in again. Just over 5 minutes later, Joey Evans headed on a clearance kick from Lewis Burgess into Ahmed's path, who raced clear of the defenders and chipped Ladyman to bag his brace, pushing Bedford 4 goals clear with 30 minutes left to play.

Despite being home and dry, The Pirates pushed for more. Ahmed was denied his hat-trick as a shot on a tight angle was inches away from hitting the top corner. Joey Evans was later denied from point-blank range as Ladyman smothered his shot on the turn from 2 metres out. Josh Setchell came close, cutting in from the left and curling a shot around the post in an audacious, low-driven effort.

But the final goal did soon come. Mo Ahmed was once again involved, Pickpocketing Clinton Zawe of possession before driving into the box and laying it off to Evans, who smashed it into a vacant net to further his impressive goal tally within the FA Vase competition.

FROM THE BOARDROOM

Welcome back to McMullen Park, you crazy Pirates. Today, we face Arlesey Town, which we know will be a challenging match following the hard game they gave us away earlier in the season.

Running a football club is no small feat, and the challenges are as numerous as they are varied. The complexity of organising and managing all the cogs that make this club work should not be underestimated, and it involves the hard work and dedication of an extensive team of professionals and volunteers.

Compared to the traditional businesses I have managed, Real Bedford FC is unique. The unpredictability of the game, the passion of the fans, and the intense schedule of matches and training sessions create a dynamic and challenging environment, but one I love.

This week's game against Stansted, unfortunately, abandoned at half-time due to a floodlight failure, illustrates these challenges. At the time of abandonment, Stansted were leading 2-0, and it was a tough call for the referee to make, but player safety is their priority. Sadly, this was the second such instance for Stansted in two weeks, as their previous game was abandoned after a torrential downpour during the match made the pitch unplayable, further highlighting the unpredictable nature of football.

Abandoning a game brings many challenges, including the logistics of rescheduling amidst an already packed calendar, the burden on players travelling long distances midweek, and the financial implications of paying players for an additional game, refunding fans and paying officials.

Managing a football pitch is a science in itself, requiring meticulous attention from off-season renovations to ongoing weather management and post-match repairs.

Preparing for a match day is a huge task, one that we spend all week on when we are playing at home, and we could not accomplish it without the dedication of our team and a host of invaluable volunteers. From stocking the bar and preparing food to managing the gate and handling our social media presence, every little detail matters and everyone who is part of this carries out their tasks with precision and care.

Post-match duties are just as crucial, from feeding both teams to updating official systems and preparing for the next match, and then beyond match days, we must ensure facilities are available for training, engage with community groups, manage our e-commerce, and much more.

Our volunteers, especially those involved with the junior teams of Real Bedford Ladies and Bedford Park Rangers, play a vital role in nurturing junior sports, providing quality coaching and ensuring a fun environment for all. They do all this in their spare time for the love of the game and to give kids in Bedford the opportunity to play football and develop.

Success in football requires a relentless dedication to excellence, but the unique thing about football is, however hard you have prepared, it all comes down to those 90 minutes, where we rely on the team to win three points or get us through to the next round of the cup. You can do everything right, and sometimes things don't go your way; perhaps a shot is missed, a referee's decision goes against you, or floodlights fail when you are 2-0 up. It is this unpredictability which makes football so addictive. With traditional business, you have forecasts and history to rely on. With football, you have no idea what will happen when Saturday comes.

I need to thank everyone who works so hard to make this club a success:

a. Rob Sinclair, the best manager in non-league football, and his dedicated backroom staff do everything to prepare the team for winning matches. Similar with Dean Perrett and his backroom staff of Real Bedford Ladies, who have won every game this season.

b. The players of Real Bedford and Real Bedford Ladies, who give their all every game.

c. Emma Firman, my Chief Executive, the heartbeat of our operations.

d. Neil McCormack, my secretary, for his excellent work on our infrastructure strategy.

e. Kitman Gezza, for his exceptional work with our kits and ensuring the teams have everything they need on a match day. As I write this, he is standing in front of me, preparing all the kits for the matches we have this weekend.

f. Will Roberts, for driving our social media engagement to new heights.

g. Benji, our new commentator, for making our live streams and audio broadcasts exciting for the fans who can't be with us at McMullen Park.

h. Seren, for her invaluable support during ladies' match days, the No.1 Roberts in sports.

i. All our volunteers, the unsung heroes of our club, including Mark, Lozza, Wendy, Oliver, and Seb, and anyone I have forgotten.

Our goal is clear: to bring league football to Bedford for the first time. To achieve this, from the pitch to the boardroom, we must have a relentless dedication to being the best at everything we do. I am proud to be the chairman of this club, and I will continue to give everything I have to bring success.

Up the Pirates!

Peter McCormack,
Chairman

LEIGHTON TOWN MAT

Real Bedford fell short in the first round of the Beds Senior Challenge Trophy with a 3-1 loss to Leighton Town on the road.

With a heavily rotated side from the weekend, The Pirates conceded two late goals and exited the competition at the hands of the Step 4 side despite having the majority of possession throughout the 90 minutes.

The best chances of the first half fell to Real Bedford. A good ball from Claston Gordon on the right flank found the head of Tom Hitchcock, but Karl Daley tipped his header around the post to deny The Pirates the opening score. Bedford were nearly off the mark off the resulting corner, Ollie Swain rising highest off the set piece, but Daley just managed to tip his header over the bar.

Real Bedford also had a solid red card shout in the first half. A long ball over the top of the defence found Joey Evans, who looked to tap it past Karl Daley, who had sprinted out to meet the striker. The collision between the two players saw Evans hit the deck; however, the referee only brandished Daley with a yellow card despite being the last man, as Evans appeared to have pushed the ball out wide.

Second Half

The game lit up in the second period, with all the goals coming with 20 minutes to go. Leighton got the opener off a corner, with the ball flicked on by Albie Hall to Jake Watkinson at the back post, who nodded it in for the hosts to take the lead.

Real Bedford responded to the goal instantly as Leighton failed to deal with a long Lewis Burgess throw-in in the box. The ball eventually sat up to Josh Setchell, who smashed it home on the half-volley to level proceedings with 10 minutes of the 90 to go.

The home side regained their lead not long after. A miscommunication at the back for The Pirates gave Jake Watkinson possession with McGregor off his line. The striker slotted the ball towards the goal, with substitute Ben Shepherd smashing it home as the ball was about to cross the line.

Real Bedford then put everything towards finding another leveller, with multiple chances off of set-piece. But with all their players forward, the visitors were caught on the counter late on. Karl Daley collected the ball and smashed it downfield towards Jake Watkinson, who found himself one-on-one with McGregor, bagging his brace and taking the game out of Bedford's sight.

THE BIG INTERVIEW W

This week, we sat down with Tom Hitchcock, the current squad's all-time leading goal scorer. With a decorated career in football, Tom reflects on how he got into the world of football, his relationship with his father, Kevin Hitchcock and what the future holds for the Hitchcock name in football.

As we reflect on the last few weeks of football, it's certainly been a bit of a roller coaster for Real Bedford fans. How have you found it?

It's been a decent few weeks. The match against MK Irish was obviously a massive result for the club. Personally, it was also good to get my first start of the season against Leighton Town in the cup. Although we didn't manage to get the win, it was good to get a go from the off, having now recovered from the broken wrist I got at the start of the season.

As someone who has been a continuum in the Real Bedford attack throughout the last two seasons, is this current group of teammates as exciting to play with as they are to watch?

It's very exciting. We have a really strong core of players who not only perform well on the pitch but are good people to be around off it. They're all very good footballers that we are fortunate to have at this club. In both training and on a match day, you can't help but enjoy kicking a ball around.

With many young players in the ranks around your position, what have you taken from being one of the more experienced heads in the dressing room?

It's something I have been doing a lot of throughout my career. I have always wanted to help the younger players wherever I can because I was in that position once and had people help me. It's nice that they can look up to me and the rest of the leadership group for advice, and I'm still learning a lot from them, too.

WITH TOM HITCHCOCK

It's no surprise that your dad, Kevin, had a significant influence on your early football years, but what was it like having him in the game as you were looking to break into it yourself?

From very young, I was surrounded by football. I remember during the school holidays I would go with my dad to training at Chelsea and be amongst it all. For any 7 or 8-year-old, it would be a dream, but for me, it was normal. When I got older and started playing, he would be quite tough on me. Only because he knew I had talent and he wanted to help me succeed. Looking back, I wouldn't have wanted it any other way. When I joined Blackburn, initially, I was known as "Hitchy's son", but that soon wore off as I proved my worth. Having my dad in the game had its pros and cons for sure, but he is such an inspiration to me. As I said, I certainly wouldn't change it.

As a father yourself now, is there a chance your kids may follow the same path?

Potentially, I'll definitely encourage them to try it out. I probably wouldn't be as tough as my dad was, but that's because we are just different people in that way. I played a lot of sports growing up, and I would want my kids to do the same. If they decide that football is something they want to pursue, hopefully, I will be able to help them with that dream as much as possible, just like my dad did for me.

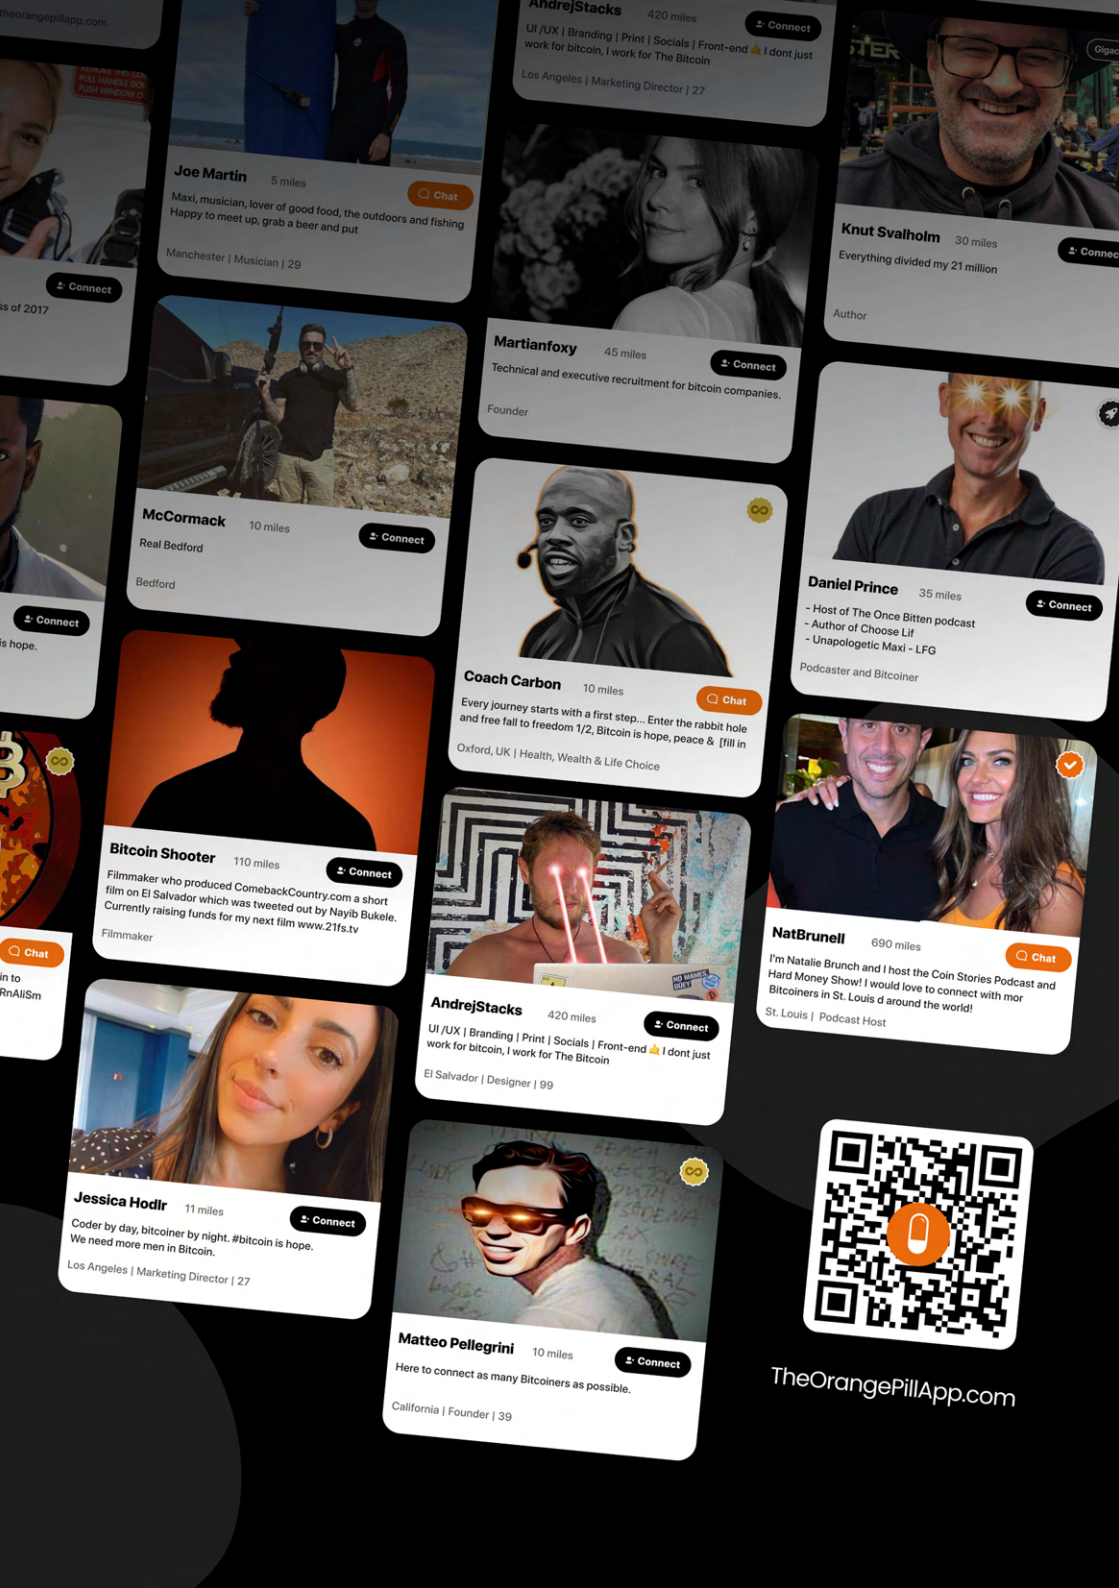

What are you expecting from Arlesey Town, our visitors today?

They gave us a good showing in the reverse fixture away from home, and off the back of the first-half performance on Tuesday and the way that game ended, I think the team will be keen to right some wrongs this afternoon. If we can stay patient on the ball and take our chances where needed, then I can't see why we couldn't get another win over them.

CRAWLEY GREEN MAT

Real Bedford put four past Crawley Green to close the gap at the top of the league.

Goals from Evans and Swain, a brace from Ben Stevens and a Crawley Green consolation effort left the score at 4-1 on a cold Saturday afternoon.

The Pirates got off to a fast start and found their first chance inside 5 minutes. A short corner routine between Ahmed and Stevens saw the latter whip in an inviting cross towards the head of Lewis Burgess, who flicked it across the face of the goal in agonising fashion.

Bedford continued to knock on the Crawley door but struggled to find clear opportunities to break the deadlock as the Crawley defence held firm. Pirates fans would have to wait until just before the halftime break before the first goal of the game. Crawley's goalkeeper parried a shot from range from Ben Stevens, but only as far as Joey Evans. The striker reset the play, finding Lewis Burgess in a deeper role, before finding Stevens inside the area. Stevens evaded defenders well before firing a shot towards goal, taking a deflection to fool Tierney Parker in between the sticks and cross the whitewash for the first goal of the game.

Second Half

Real Bedford continued their intensity from the end of the first half into the start of the second and found more opportunities as Crawley came out less defensive. 10 minutes in, a Charlie Smith corner was punched away by Parker to Setchell, who fizzed it back towards goal on the half volley from 20 yards out. Parker again parried the effort, and Ollie Swain picked up the scraps from out wide, delivering a ball to the back post towards his centre-back partner Luke Knight. However, the captain's header was off-target, and Crawley got away without conceding.

Real Bedford did get their second a few minutes later. Charlie Smith regained possession in the midfield before playing a direct pass towards Evans, who raced towards goal. With Stevens, Corbit and

TCH REPORT

Ahmed all in pursuit. Evans took his time before laying it off to Stevens, who in turn found Corbit, then Ahmed before playing it back to Evans a few yards out, who made no mistake, bagging his 20th goal of the season inside 20 games.

Bedford got their third after the 70th-minute mark. Another short corner routine between Mo Ahmed and Ben Stevens allowed Stevens to whip a cross in. The ball floated past everyone in the area towards Luke Knight, who in turn passed it back to Burgess, who produced a delightful delivery from the opposite flank towards Swain, who nodded it in at the back post for his first goal in Real Bedford colours.

Moments later, Crawley Green picked up a consolation. A loose pass at the back from McGregor found Fullwood, who in turn played in Harry Peterson, who slotted it home to bring the game back to a two-goal deficit.

The 3-goal cushion was soon restored. Charlie Smith, Ben Stevens and Tom Hitchcock all linking up in the midfield left space in behind for Stevens to run into. Hitchcock tapped the ball towards Stevens, who steadied himself before smashing it past the keeper into the bottom left corner to complete his brace.

Crawley Green thought they had their second with a few minutes to go; a long-range Paris Smith header was palmed away acrobatically by McGregor, who collected it on the second time asking.

With the clock in the red, Real Bedford nearly put away a final chance. Claston Gordon, running down the right flank, played in Andy Sinclair, who Crawley Green defenders smothered before the referee blew his whistle for full-time.

THE AWAY TEAM

Arlesey Town Football Club, rooted in Bedfordshire, England, and affiliated with the Bedfordshire County Football Association, currently competes in the Spartan South Midlands League Premier Division. They play their home games at New Lamb Meadow, continuing a legacy that began when the club was founded in 1891.

The club's journey in competitive football started in the Biggleswade & District League and progressed to the Bedfordshire County League in 1922. They quickly established themselves as a competitive side, finishing as runners-up in the first season and again in the subsidiary competition in 1923-24. However, after some early struggles which saw them leave and rejoin the league, Arlesey found success by winning the South Midlands League Division Two in the 1929-30 season.

Arlesey's football journey saw them experience fluctuating fortunes through the mid-20th century. They won multiple titles, including back-to-back league titles in the early 1950s, and transitioned through several leagues including the Parthenon League and the London League. A return to the South Midlands League in the 1960s was marked by immediate promotion and relegation, highlighting the club's resilient spirit.

The 1980s and early 1990s were marked by significant achievements and challenges. Arlesey won the Premier Division of the United Counties League in 1984-85 but faced financial hurdles leading to their return to the South Midlands League. The 1994-95 season was particularly triumphant as the club clinched the Premier Division title with a record points haul and secured the FA Vase at Wembley.

Entering the new millennium, Arlesey achieved consecutive promotions, moving from the Spartan South Midlands League Premier Division up to the Isthmian League with a record-breaking offensive season. They saw further reassignments across divisions due to league reorganizations, ultimately clinching the Division One Central title in the 2010-11 season and earning a spot in the Premier Division.

In recent years, Arlesey Town FC made headlines by reaching the first round of the FA Cup in consecutive seasons (2011-12 and 2012-13), facing teams like Salisbury City and Coventry City. However, following a relegation from the Premier Division after the 2014-15 season, they suffered another drop to the Spartan South Midlands League Premier Division by the end of the 2017-18 season. Despite these setbacks, the club continues its passionate pursuit of football excellence.

RBFC LADIES MATCH

On a wet Sunday afternoon at McMullen Park, Real Bedford Ladies looked to continue their perfect start to the season, hosting Needham Market in the league.

From the first whistle, the Pirates dominated proceedings, with Erin Price, Zara Carroll, and Gemma Croucher controlling the midfield and stifling any attempts from Needham to establish a foothold in the game.

The first real opportunity of the match came within the opening 10 minutes, courtesy of CJ's pace down the left flank. She put in a dangerous low cross, but Cesca Partridge was just out of reach. Amber Smith raced onto the loose ball, only to send her shot agonisingly wide of the target. Smith continued to threaten the Needham defence, nearly setting up Tasha Fensome in a move similar to the opening goal of last week's win against Stevenage, but this time, the ball was just too high for the head of the Bedford striker.

Bedford's persistence paid off in the 18th minute when Erin Price delivered a perfect through ball to Cesca Partridge. Partridge took a deft touch to evade the Needham defenders and unleashed a powerful strike from the edge of the box, finding the bottom left corner of the net.

The Pirates doubled their advantage just three minutes later. Gemma Croucher, deep in her own half, launched a pinpoint through ball to Tasha Fensome, who outpaced the Needham defence and coolly slotted the ball home, marking her 15th goal of the season.

Fensome netted her second of the day in the 27th minute following a long free kick from the Bedford captain, Zara Carroll, into the Needham Box. Her slight header confused the away side's defence, and the ball rolled into the net.

Needham's Page Wakefield narrowly missed a chance to get her side back in the game just before halftime. A low cross from the right found her free in the box, but as she slid in, she could only guide the ball wide of the sticks.

Second Half

The second half saw a shift in momentum, with the Pirates unable to capitalise on their chances and Needham gradually growing into the game. Fensome, Smith, and Partridge missed opportunities to extend the lead with good opportunities.

Needham's persistence finally paid off in injury time, capitalising on a rare mistake from the Pirates' defence to snatch a late consolation goal, courtesy of Lucy Loomes.

Despite a less convincing second half, Real Bedford Ladies walked away with all three points, maintaining their 100% start to the season and extending their lead at the top of the table to 8 points.
